Red Rock Regulations
Announced for 1936

Two orders affecting wildfowlers in southeastern Montana were announced here today, a proclamation by President Roosevelt approving a regulation of the <sup>Acting</sup> Secretary of Agriculture prohibiting hunting on and adjacent to the eastern two-thirds of the Red Rock Lakes Federal refuge and an order by Secretary Wallace permitting shooting on the rest of the refuge. The open season on waterfowl in Montana begins tomorrow, October 10.

Hunting, the U. S. Biological Survey explains, will be permitted on all of the refuge west of the common section line running North and South between Sections 34 and 35, Township 13 South, Range 2 West, and extending southerly between Sections 3 and 2, 10 and 11, 14 and 15, Township 14 South, Range 2 West.

The area on which hunting is not allowed has been thoroughly posted, according to Biological Survey officials. The Bureau advises sportsmen desiring further information to consult Junior Refuge Manager Archie Hall, of Lakeview, who is stationed at the Red Rock Lakes Migratory Waterfowl Refuge.

The order establishing the public shooting ground is based on authority under the Migratory Bird Conservation Act of 1929. Hunting on the rest of the area is prohibited in accordance with provisions of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of 1918. Hunting on this area, declared the regulation approved by the President, "would defeat the protection sought to be extended to such migratory waterfowl and other migratory birds by the establishment of the refuge."
